FENCING OF FARMS IS TO BE DEMANDED

We fail to grasp the full meaning of the bill introduced in the lower house by Representative Hooper of Weber county, which, if enacted into law, would compel all farmers to fence their lands.

If this measure is intended to benefit stockmen at the expense of the farmer, it is unfair legislation.

There are hundreds of dry farmers in northern Utah who are struggling along and they have not the means with which to meet this expense. If the measure is intended to relieve the sheepmen from damages by trespass that same result might be attained by simply requiring that private ownership should be made evident by the placing of corner posts of size to be readily discernible at a considerable distance.

LETTER TO SALT LAKE DELIVERED IN THREE DAYS.

Patrons of the postoffice complain that letters sent from Ogden to Salt Lake often are not delivered until the third day.

A man who works in Ogden, writing to his family in Salt Lake, mailed a letter in Ogden on Tuesday afternoon, which was not delivered at its destination until Thursday afternoon, although the destination of the letter was only six blocks from the Salt Lake postoffice. Inquiring as to the cause of the delay, his wife was informed by the mail carrier that frequently letters were left undelivered in the Salt Lake office owing to the inability of the overworked force to handle each day's mail within the working hours.

If this be true, then the postoffice department is sacrificing efficiency to economy and making a record in a financial direction to the great injury of the public.

ANOTHER "BLUE SKY" LAW IS PROPOSED.

A second "blue sky" bill has been introduced in the legislature. Senator W. S. Hansen of Box Elder county yesterday presented a measure copied after the Kansas law.

The bill places all investment companies under the supervision of the state bank examiner. Any corporation offering stock for sale in the state must first file with the bank commissioner an itemized statement of its financial condition and the amount of its properties and liabilities, a copy of all contracts, bonds or other securities, which it proposes to offer for sale in the state, copies of all advertising literature which it uses to promote the sale of stock, copies of constitution and bylaws or articles of incorporation. The bank commissioner is empowered to examine the books of the corporation and to take any methods he deems advisable for ascertaining its true standing. If he is satisfied that the enterprise is a legitimate one and offers a fair return on the investment he may issue a permit for the sale of stock in the state, which he may revoke at any time.

Mr. Hansen declares that more than $100,000 has been lost by the people of the state through investments in enterprises that have no financial standing and are promoted solely for the purpose of fleecing the public. He believes his bill will eliminate all sales of stock except by legitimate enterprises.

imate all sales of stock except by legitimate enterprises.

This measure is similar to that introduced in the house by Representative Hooper of Weber county, comments on which were made by the Standard last Tuesday.

While we are in favor of some enactment to prevent the sale of "wildcat" mining stocks and the promoting of "wireless" frauds, the measure must be carefully drawn to avoid strangling meritorious propositions. The law should not attempt to do too much for those who are easily duped by the peddlers of fraudulent stocks and the promoters of get-rich-quick schemes, and yet make impossible rank frauds. Too much authority to condemn prospective corporations should not be placed with the bank examiner, whose judgment might be at fault.

MONEY GOES TO CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH.

The long-drawn-out fight over the estate of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy has been ended by the natural heirs of the founder of Christian Science joining with the trustees of the church in proposed decrees entered in several courts involved.

Mrs. Eddy died at Newton, Mass., December 4, 1910. Her will, which disposed of an estate of about $2,500,000, left approximately $2,000,000 in trust to the First Church of the Christian Science of Boston. Of the two sons who, a year before her death, had received from Mrs. Eddy $290,000 in satisfaction of all claims against her estate, attacked the bill in January of 1911, invoking statutes of New Hampshire and Massachusetts which limit bequests to churches to sums returning annual incomes of not more than $5000 and $2000 in the respective states. Eventually the question of the validity of the will reached the supreme court of both states.

In New Hampshire the will was upheld. The supreme court of Massachusetts ruled that the $2,000,000 bequest could not be received by the mother church, but at the same time declared that the will of the benefactor should be respected.

The amicable agreement no doubt leaves most of the estate with the church, and that is as it should be. Mrs. Eddy obtained her wealth through the liberal contributions and offerings of her religious followers, and in all fairness the church, representing those who so liberally gave of their worldly possessions, should be the greater beneficiary.

MONEY FOR THE PUBLIC HIGHWAYS.

Now that $50,000 has been appropriated for a highway through Utah, beginning at the state line near Grand Junction, Colo., and passing through Green River, Price, Provo, Salt Lake, and north through Ogden, Brigham City, Snowville and Kelton to the Nevada line, Ogden must not cease to labor for that better route known as the Overland.

We are reliably informed that what is known as the Midland trail, and on which this money is to be expended, is without merit as a possible transcontinental link; that the route cannot be made passable with an expenditure of $100,000, but there is this danger, that automobile parties will be induced by misrepresentation to attempt to travel that road, and repeated disappointments will discredit all highways through Utah. From now on Ogden automobile enthusiasts must endeavor to get in touch with these about to start on the transcontinental trip and warn them that, before attempting to go through Utah by any other than the Overland route, an investigation should be made.

The suggestion already put forth by Salt Lake boosters that the Midland trail be declared the official highway across Utah must be opposed, as the advertising of this new route as the official road might do much to mislead the outside public.

The appropriating of state money for the Green River-Price route was not opposed by our legislators owing to the bill carrying $15,000 to be spent on the roads in the western part of Box Elder, recognized as the weakest stretch on the Overland highway. When the whole of the highway in Box Elder is placed in good condition, the Overland from ocean to ocean will be the one transcontinental route that can be traveled without danger to the travelers or their machines.

HEALTH BOARD ISSUES ITS MONTHLY REPORT

Salt Lake, Feb. 8.—A total of 240 births, as against 119 deaths, was recorded with the health department during the month. The births were 118 boys and 122 girls; of the deaths 69 were males and 50 females.

Measles killed three children in Salt Lake during January, while scarlet fever, smallpox, diphtheria and typhoid fever claimed not a single victim. Whooping cough also killed one child and pneumonia claimed ten victims.

This is the showing of the monthly report of the health department, issued yesterday. The supposedly harmless diseases appear to have been the chief vehicles of death, a point to which the health authorities have called attention frequently in recent months.

There was a total of 385 cases of measles, three deaths, and the whooping cough took one out of four cases. Of smallpox, there were 117 cases; scarlet fever, eleven cases; diphtheria, four cases, and typhoid fever, four cases.

Three-quarter length draped coats are very much in fashion.

MARRIED AT LOW MASS

Cardinal Gibbons Joins Miss Wise and Duc de Richelieu in Wedlock

Baltimore, Feb. 8.—Miss Ellnor Douglas Wise, daughter of the late Commander Frederick N. Wise, U. S. N., was married at the cathedral here today to Armand, duc de Richelieu et de Fronsac, Cardinal Gibbons performed the ceremony at a low mass, the nuptial mass not being sung during Lent.

Following the service a wedding breakfast was served to about 200 guests, quite a number of whom came from New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

The duc de Richelieu, who is the inheritor of the name and nobiliary dignities of Cardinal Richelieu, is half American. His mother was Alice Helene daughter of Michael Heine, a banker of New Orleans.

THE MAIL ORDER HOUSE.

(Air: "The Old Oaken Bucket.")

How dear to my heart are the scenes of my childhood
When fond recollections present to me
The church and the store and the school in the wildwood
And all the loved spots that my infancy knew

In summer I wandered again to the village
But found not a neighbor of old
The streets were deserted, the farms needed tillage—
The town had been killed by the mail order house.

The village had vanished when merchants giving way, was taken to the emergency hospital. Dr. H. B. Sprague dressed his scalp wound and revived him, after which the young man was taken to his home and attended by Dr. W. H. Pugh of the Y. M. C. A., who later ordered him removed to Holy Cross hospital.

Had Love retained his seat instead of trying to leap to safety he would probably have been unhurt, for out of the ten others who occupied the same plank he did not one was even slightly injured.

Love is a driver for the American Linen Supply company and has a father living at the corner of Fourth North and Main streets. His mother is at present in California on a pleasure trip.

MANY DIVORCES IN SALT LAKE CITY

Salt Lake, Feb. 8.—One with an ear to music should not be required to live with a brute whose ideas of divine harmony rise no higher than a broken accordion and a spasmodic alarm clock performing together, declared Charlotte Ograin on the witness stand in Judge C. W. Morse's court yesterday, when her suit for divorce from Lars P. Ograin, a local contractor, was called for trial. Mrs. Ograin made good her contention and was given a decree of divorce.

The charge against Ograin was that of extreme cruelty in that he sought to annoy his wife by playing an accordion for two hours without attempting to be useful and keeping an alarm clock going constantly during the same period. The result was a nervous breakdown on her part, Mrs. Ograin testified.

Most of yesterday's divorce matinee was taken up with orders to show cause on many alimony citations and while many tales of financial embarrassment were laid bare, the real thrills of actual divorce proceedings did not materialize. Tillie Waller was given a divorce from Lester Waller on a showing that he had given nothing for her support in the last two years. Final decrees were given Emma Murdoch, Don from Martino Don and Annie Moon from Berga G. A. Moon.

Alfred W. Knudson was ordered, after much investigation concerning the financial condition of the Knudson Novelty Manufacturing company of which he is manager, to pay his wife, Louetta Knudson, $25 a month temporary alimony. Mrs. Knudson charges her husband with cruelty.

John L. Canterbury was considered a show case when he should not pay alimony to Estella Canterbury.

"I offered her some money last week and she wouldn't take it because she said I had stolen it and she didn't want to spend stolen money," Canterbury said.

Canterbury works for the Utah Light & Railway company as a conductor. He was ordered to pay $4 a week.

The same amount of alimony was fixed in the case of Sarah M. Gayler against Arthur Gayler, although the wife protested that it was hardly enough to buy shoes for her baby.

INAUGURAL BALL PLANS COMPLETED

Salt Lake, Feb. 8.—Arrangements for the high state inaugural reception and grand ball, which will take place at the Hotel Utah February 12, have virtually been completed by the general committee in charge which yesterday named Colonel Rodney T. Badger of the governor's staff and general committee, and Dana T. Smith as a subcommittee in charge of refreshments.

So far as expected, this completes the naming of subcommittees that will supervise the many details and features of the elaborate affair.

General E. A. Wedgwood, chairman of the general committee, and Secretary W. H. Folland yesterday laid the special stress on the fact that the refreshments feature is included in the general admission, and is not independent of the program, although the guests may indulge in extra luxuries at their discretion. The subcommittee in charge is arranging a committee menu that will be in strict keeping with the entire program, and the grill room will present a brilliant scene. Punch will be served on the mezzanine.

The grand reception and grand march are scheduled to terminate at 9:30, when the augmented orchestra band, and the grill room will be divided into two parts, the larger division officiating in the ball room and the lesser part in the grill room.

General Wedgwood, the floor com-tion to greet him, including Prince Nicholas of Greece, the military governor and a large assemblage of officials. Replying to addresses of welcome, Mr. Venizelos predicted that the war with Turkey would be of short duration.

ENVER BEY LEAVES

London, Feb. 7.—Enver Bey, chief of the Turkish general staff, according to the Constantinople correspondent of the Daily News, left Constantinople Friday night with a force of picked and seasoned troops. His destination was kept secret.

A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Belgrade reports that the governor of Serbia, who was killed in the Serbian bombardment of that city.

SALT LAKE YOUNG MAN IS INJURED IN FALL

Salt Lake, Feb. 8.—By the collapse of the south bleachers in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium during the amateur athletic tournament last evening, Lawrence Love, aged 23 years, of 428 West Fifth South street, suffered concussion of the brain, a bad scalp wound and a severely wrenched spine.

After being taken to his home he was later removed to Holy Cross hospital, where at an early hour this morning he was reported delirious and in a serious condition.

C. L. Larsen's left leg was wrenched but he was able to walk to his home at 527 Fourth South street.

Walter Fiss, an employee of the Y. M. C. A., was struck by one of the falling timbers and severely bruised.

Love, who was unconscious when picked up from the floor where he had fallen after leaping in an effort to save himself as he felt the bleachers giving way, was taken to the emergency hospital. Dr. H. B. Sprague dressed his scalp wound and revived him, after which the young man was taken to his home and attended by Dr. W. H. Pugh of the Y. M. C. A., who later ordered him removed to Holy Cross hospital.

Had Love retained his seat instead of trying to leap to safety he would probably have been unhurt, for out of the ten others who occupied the same plank he did not one was even slightly injured.

Love is a driver for the American Linen Supply company and has a father living at the corner of Fourth North and Main streets. His mother is at present in California on a pleasure trip.

WAR BULLETINS

Rome, Feb. 7.—A special dispatch received here from the island of Lemnos, in the Aegean sea, says the Greek aviator, Murtis, accompanied by the Greek captain Maratimis made a daring flight last night over the straits of the Dardanelles in a hydro-aeroplane. The dispatch says that a thorough reconnaissance of the Turkish fleet was made and that the aviator then flew over Maldoz near the southern point of the Gallipoli peninsula overlooking the Dardanelles and dropped four bombs on the arsenal there.

The aviator reports, according to the dispatch, that as his machine passed over the fleet he saw flashes from the vessels' guns as they fired at him. The hydro-aeroplane was not hit.

Captain Maratimis says he was able to make observations during the flight that were more valuable than he had expected.

CIVILIANS IN WILD PANIC.
London, Feb. 7.—A dispatch to a news agency from Constantinople describes the wild panic and flight of civilians from Gallipoli owing to the advance of the Bulgarian troops. Many hundreds of persons, the dispatch says, sought refuge on the military transports sent there and numerous overloaded boats were overturned and hundreds of persons drowned. The dispatch asserts that on Sunday and Monday fifteen thousand and Kurdish raiders landed at Midia from eighteen transports. They carried well armed and well equipped soldiers, and were ordered to scatter in bands of about 400 each throughout Thrace and maintain themselves at the expense of the population.

RUMANIA OPENS NEGOTIATIONS.
Sofia, Feb. 7.—The negotiations between Rumania and Bulgaria on the frontier question will be resumed here, Dr. Danef who was head of the Bulgarian peace delegation in London and M. Saranoff, former minister to Turkey, have been appointed as Bulgarian delegates for the negotiations and M. Ghibka, the Rumanian minister to Bulgaria, probably will represent his country.

The official Mr. Denef reports that more Serbian troops are being sent into Thrace. It says the Bulgarians are able to dispense with their assistance.

IMPORTANT CAPTURES MADE.
Cettigne, Montenegro, Feb. 7.—The combined Serbian and Montenegrin attack on Scutari employs 60,000 men. Two important positions, Bushati and Bardenjoli, already have been captured by the allies.

OVIATION FOR GREEK PREMIER.
Saloniki, Feb. 7.—M. Venizelos, the Greek premier, who was attending the peace conference in London, arrived here today and met with an extraordinary popular ovation. Thirty thousand persons were at the station to greet him.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from a reputable physician, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by Dr. J. C. Hall & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. It is taken in capsules and is the only safe and effective remedy for Catarrh of the Nose, Throat, Lungs, and Bladder. Price, 75c per bottle. Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Catarrh Cure for Catarrh.

mittee and officers of the national guard of Utah will have active charge of the grand ball. The reception committee will officiate until the beginning of the grand march. The invitation committee has virtually completed its task, and indications point to one of the most brilliant inaugural scenes in the history of the state, with a record attendance of leading men and women of Utah.

OFFERS A REWARD FOR RUNAWAY WIFE

Salt Lake, Feb. 8.—Determined to find his eloping sister-in-law, Mrs. Millie Howa, and Louis Sarkes, the Syrian with whom she is said to have left her home in Hiawatha, Moses Howa yesterday authorized the May-John detective agency to offer $50 reward for the apprehension of the pair.

Circulars giving the descriptions of the man, woman and little girl are being mailed broadcast to police departments and detective agencies.

Sarkes is a miner by trade and it is thought that he will be found in some mining camp in Utah or neighboring western state. The brother-in-law is relentless in his determination to punish the man whom he befriended by securing him a job and lending him money, only to the end that his confidence might be betrayed.

While the able brother is trailing the fugitives, John Howa, the crippled and deserted husband, is taking care of the pool hall conducted by the Howa brothers in Hiawatha.

SECURITIES IN THE LOCAL MARKET

John C. Cutler, Jr., & Co., investment men, yesterday issued the following trade review and quotations on local securities:

The volume of business already transacted this year throughout the United States has been fully equal to that of the same period of last year, but now more conservatism is displayed with the continued withdrawals of gold from this country and the decreased business securities.

Local trade conditions in Utah are fairly active, but the uncertainty in regard to what the future tariff may be on lead, sugar and wool has a depressing effect on business sentiment in this whole intermountain country. During the week Utah-Idaho Sugar company stock dropped from $9 to $8.80 per share and Consolidated Wagon & Machine company stock declined to $99 per share. The fluctuations in these two stocks are sometimes very fair barometers of the condition of trade in this section of the country. There have been a few changes noted in other stocks, but as a rule prices are well maintained.

The reports of the national banks are now being published and show good reserves and excellent resources. A few small sales have taken place lately in some of the bank stocks, while the demand for bonds is better. Quotations:

DRIVER OF CZAR'S TRAIN IS DEAD

Paris, Feb. 8.—There has just died in Switzerland the engineer whose duty it had been to drive the special imperial train that carried Emperor Nicholas on his journeyings in Russia. He was possessed of a considerable fortune, a result of the largess of his master.

Although a Swiss, Dominique Hof had been in the service of the Russian railways for forty years. During the last fifteen of them he had driven the emperor's private trains from Moscow to Odessa and to other places in Russia. Hof, who retired a few months ago, would never say more of his experiences than hint at singular dangers he had risked, and the immense bribes that he had refused from revolutionists and from members of the secret police in their desire to test his uprightness.
